

10 STRATEGIES TO PROMOTE STUDENT-TO-STUDENT INTERACTION

1. Ensure that the student spend the majority of the day in a rich social environment

6. Teach others how to interact with the student with a disability

2. Highlight similarities between the student and peers

7. Cultivate encouragement, belonging, and shared accomplishments

3. Re-direct student conversations to include the student with a disability

8. Give the all students responsibilities that allow for interactions with peers

4. Directly teach and practice interaction skills in a natural setting

9. Systematically fade direct support

5. Use instructional strategies that promote interaction

10. Make friendship and interdependence the goal

Get the 9 Essentials School Leaders Use to Build Inclusive Systems

GET THE INCLUSION ESSENTIALS

